

Dr. Peter Auster

Giving Smiles ... and Giving Back

Dr. Peter Auster is a cosmetic dentist with more than thirty years of experience in crafting beautiful, healthy and distinctive smiles. His general and cosmetic dentistry practice – Cosmetic Dentistry Associates - is located in Pomona, New York, and provides Madison Avenue results just minutes from Manhattan. Cosmetic Dentistry Associates utilizes the best of modern technology, deluxe amenities, and an individualized approach to ensure there's a smile on every face. Dr. Auster also practices a true dedication to delivering smiles worldwide, with a strong and ongoing commitment to philanthropy.

Voted among peers as “A Top Dentist in Hudson Valley”, Dr. Auster offers a range of general practice and cosmetic dentistry solutions including dental implants, Invisalign, periodontal therapy, porcelain veneers, teeth whitening, TMJ therapy, reconstructive dentistry and all general dentistry needs. He is known for his ability to craft distinctively personal and beautiful smiles that reflect each patient's individuality. Further, his practice is mercury and metal-free and each partner is committed to ongoing education, ensuring they are at the top of their game. Dr. Auster continues to undertake at least 50 hours of continuing dental coursework each year and has completed training at the renowned Dawson Academy.

An accomplished lecturer and author, Dr. Auster's writings emphasize the challenges associated with “conquering difficult cases,” embracing new technologies, and helping the dental community understand the processes that have elevated his practice to gold-standard.

Dr. Auster has achieved admirable success, allowing him to give back to both US and global communities. In fact, his commitment to philanthropy prompted the ADA to award him their “Certificate for International Voluntary Service” in 2012. He travels annually to volunteer for 1000 Smiles Jamaica, one of the world's largest international humanitarian dental projects, and supports Smiles for Life, to which Dr. Auster's office has contributed over $25,000 to children's charities in the past 3 years. Dr. Auster also goes to the Special Olympics every year as a member of the dental screening team, and is an ongoing participant in the AACD's Give Back A Smile program, which provides cosmetic dentistry to victims of domestic violence on an ongoing basis.

A member of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, the industry's most prestigious association, Dr. Auster is also the founder and current president of the Empire State Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry which serves NY, NJ and Pennsylvania and has become one of the AACD's most vibrant and successful affiliates. He has served numerous AACD committees and currently sits on the Board of Directors.

Dr. Auster is a graduate of the University Of Pennsylvania School Of Dental Medicine and is a founding alumnus of the Dawson Academy. He is married and has two fabulous kids.
